Headteacher's message

Wisdom and learning.

Our assembly theme for this half term is wisdom. As you can see, the children have been thinking about wise characters from familiar stories, wise people in their own lives, and different ways in which they can demonstrate wisdom. They have also been thinking about what wisdom means to them. Don't forget to have a look at our amazing Wisdom Tree in the entrance hall.

Around school this term I have noticed how engaged your children have been in their learning and how enthusiastic they are about what is going on in their classrooms, for example applying maths in amazing computer programming in Year 5 and using freeze frames to prompt exciting writing in Year 2. Mrs Moore

News from the Classes

Lots of great learning has been going on across the school this week, including:

Beech class have been learning about coordinates in the four quadrants and they used this learning to program using a 'Scratch', an online programming tool. They used the coordinates really well and demonstrated really good understanding.

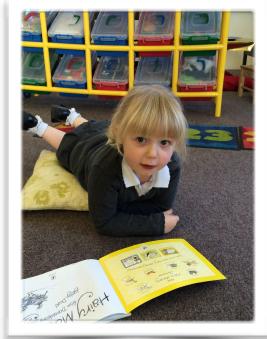

Oak class have welcomed Mrs Edwards into their class. Mrs Edwards is a trainee teacher and will be working closely with Miss McCloskey to develop her teaching skills.

Willow class have begun a topic on the Romans. They have designed shields, advertised for Roman Soldiers, applied for the job, and also have looked at the growth of the Roman Empire.

"A verb is a word, it's an action word, if you can do it then you do it, if you do it it's a verb" Getting verbalicious in Chestnut Class

Rowan class have been enjoying the Big Read every Friday morning and have made their own bookmarks.

School council are preparing for the British Heart Foundation Skipping Challenge which takes place in February.

Parking
While work is underway on the old rectory they may place cones on the road to allow deliveries, please respect this and don't park over this area.

THE FRIENDS OF HONINGTON SCHOOL

We have a prize left over from the Christmas Fayre for a Sue Knight, does anyone know who this is as we have been unable to contact her?

There is a Valentines Disco at school on the 11th February, tickets are £3 and included in the price is a hot dog (or vegetarian equivalent). Children have the opportunity to choose a song to be played and the most popular will be added to the playlist.

Thank you for your ongoing support.
